Why study Theology?

Theology (from the Greek theos, “God” and logos, “meaning”) holds a central place in the life and mission of the Catholic Church. It is through theology that Christians come to understand their own faith and explain that faith to others. Education in theology is indispensable for every believer’s mission to bring the good news of Jesus Christ to the society in which we live.

Catholic theological tradition has explored important issues such as the nature of God, revelation in Jesus Christ, the nature of the person, human identity and existence, our origins and destiny, making life choices, the Christian community, the relationship between Church and the world, and God’s abiding presence in the Holy Spirit. The discipline of theology can be organised around broad categories: Scripture Studies, Doctrinal or Systematic Theology, Moral Theology, Church History, and Pastoral Theology.

Educational Principles

The Church highly values the growth of the intellectual dimension as a natural complement to spiritual development. Christians are called to bridge their religious experience with knowledge of doctrine and the scriptures. Saint Anselm of Canterbury summed up this striving - thus also describing the discipline of theology - as “faith seeking understanding”. Adopting the spirit of this dictum, CTIS provides the space and curriculum of disciplined study to enable students to seek a mature understanding of the Christian faith they profess. In partnership with the St. Francis Xavier Seminary, CTIS structures its courses for candidates for ordination and the religious life as well as lay students. In addition to contact time with lecturers and in-class study, CTIS students will take responsibility for their own learning journey; keeping up with course readings, submitting written assignments, and allocating sufficient time for self-study, research, and project work.

Students are encouraged to work in groups to reap the benefits that learning in a community brings. CTIS recommends students to assimilate their learning into personal reflection and spiritual direction, to fruitfully unite religious knowledge with the growth of faith and life-action.

Entry Requirements

A minimum academic qualification of GCE-A level or equivalent is required to apply for CTIS programmes. Further suitability will be determined through the application process. Students are expected to be fluent in either English or Mandarin. Class instruction and examinations will be carried out in the respective programmes in these languages.

Each applicant for part-time or full-time study will be required to obtain a signed letter of recommendation for study at CTIS from their respective parish priest or local Ordinary.

Credits & Grading

Credit

CTIS programmes confer a certification after the completion of a prescribed list of subjects or courses. Each course has a credit value to indicate its work load. One credit (cr) corresponds with up to 16 lecture-hours. Lecture-hours allocated to a course do not include the time needed for assigned take-home reading and self-directed study, which the student must factor in when deciding how many courses to take per semester.

Lecture-hours correspond to time spent in class engaged in the activities associated with the respective course. These activities include but are not limited to: group work, team research projects, practicum, presentations, seminar or tutorial work, and lecturer-directed examination preparation. The time taken for the final examination of a course is not included in its lecture-hours.

Grading

All students undergoing assessment in each unit will be graded using the following table.

Unit Grade	Percentage score	Description
A	90-100%	Excellent
B	80-89%	Good

D	60-69%	Pass
